DEFENSE PRESENTS LETTER FROM MELOY

Greenhill Brothers Seek to Prove Innocence by Confession of Murdered Man.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Hillsboro, Mo., May 16.—In the case of William and Daniel Greenhill, the two brothers charged with the murder of their mister, Mrs. Sadie Urey, and John Meloy her lover, whose bodies were found filled with bullets and mutliated with a batchet or an ax, in the home of the dead woman at De Soto, Mo., on September 28, 1901, the defense to-day caused a surprise by introducing several witnesses who saw the de-fendants at the time the shots were heard which killed Mrs. Usey and Meloy, and by introducing a letter from Meloy to his mother, confessing that he contemplated the

It has been the effort of the State to prove that the Greenhill boys killed Meloy and their sister, whom they found together in the house, and to disprove the theory at first advanced of murder and suicide. The Greenhills did confess that they muti-inted the bedies in a fit of rage when the crime was discovered, but they denied hav-ing committed the murder, Meloy's Pistol Is Identified.

Several witnesses to-day testified that John Meloy tried to borrow a pistol the day of the tragedy, and to two of them he had remarked that something serious was going to happen. He persuaded one man to drink with him, and said that it would be the last time they would drink together.

A clerk in Slawson's hardware store testified to selling the pistol to Meloy with which the murder was committed. The pistol was identified.

The parents of the Greenhill boys testified that both Dan and William were in the house with them when the shots were heard. Mrs. Greenhill had been helping the murdered woman to furnish her house, but came home, leaving John Meloy and her together. When the shots were heard, William and his father were both in bed. They jumped up, pulled on their trousers and rea out the back way. Den you are the heard, will hear out the back way. Den you are the heard out the back way. Den you are the heard out the back way. St. Louis Oil Magnate Will Sail the Seas in a Royal

KING'S YACHT BOUGHT

BY H. CLAY PIERCE

NEW BOAT DISPLACES ORIZABA.

Portuguese Ruler Has Bigger Craft and the Old Will Serve American Millionaire as Makeshift.

The cabin of state in the royal yacht. Amelia, which was once occupied by King Carlos of Portugal, will now shelter H. Clay Pierce of this city, joint king with Millionaire Rockefeller of the world's oil narket. The boat was recently purchased by Mr. Pierce, and is being brought across the Atlantic under command of a captain who has sailed all craft previously owned by the local oil magnate.

It happened that the King of Portugal, after having constructed the Amelia a year go, found the yacht too small. According ly, his Majesty had another royal cruiser built, which was more to his fancy. Mr. Pierce built the Orizaba, also a handome ocean-going craft, several years ago. This boat also proved not large enough for his wants, and was sold to a Boston man. Orders were issued for another and better craft to be constructed, but some time must elapse before this new boat can be finished. Some suitable yacht to be used during the coming summer season was desired. In this manner King Carlov's former ocean pital, attracted to the Century Theater last night a large audience, who shared with the children the pleasure of the dances, songs and pantomimes.

Miss Rosalind Mahler wrots the play and the work was carried out under Professor Jacob Mahler's direction.

The first act represented a country school, and at roll-call time each child answered humorously to its name. The Delsarie instructor then gave poses. The School Committee entered, dancing, and a little programme was carried out for the directors. A hypnotist offered to show the school his power by inducing all to fall asleep.

A Marconi message from wonderland invited all to come to that domain, which ushered in the second act. The street cleaners beys dressed like the block sweepers, then furnish amusement until the fairyland scene opens. Here a score of talented children gave solo dances and songs and groupings from Florodora and in original diversions. This brought out much appleause.

Among those who participated were Misses Irma Krauss, Ruth Mitchell, Ruth Payne, Marthella Carroll, Julia Lindenschmidt, Sara Tate, Antig Gaeblar, Ella Drees, Margaret Vesper Allen, Charlotte McIlvaine, Gladys and Mildred Logeman, Lovas Donovan, May Cornwall, Irma Biebinger, Mildred Dyer, Laurene Shumate and Margaret Allen. The boys in the cast were Frank Hall Gentnor, Lee Tate, Derwood Breeding, Bernie Thole, Rene Jean Meuhln, Arthur Lubke, Harry Spencer and George Drees. There will be a matinee to-day and another next Saturday. d Some suitable yacht to be used during the coming summer season was desired. In this manner King Carlov's former ocean home becomes a makeshift for an American moneyed man.

The purchase was made through London agents. Mr. Pierce had seen photographs agents. Mr. Pierce had seen photographs and Bank of Commerce Consolidation Plans Are Completed.

WANT CHARGES INVESTIGATED. Butchers Protest Against Statements About Diseased Meat.

Resolutions were passed at a meeting of arising from the resignation of Lewis Nixen, who gave up the leadership of the wigwam.

The Senator expressed surprise that Mr. Nixon should have resigned the post, when he was popular and respected, and appeared to be the right man to raise the banner of victory once more. In reference to Nixon's successor, Mr. Sullivan said that he had no particular man in mind, but the one selected would be of such character as to command the respect of all New Yorkers. Tammany has been much abused and maligned, he said, and the organization proposes to prove that it only works for the best interests of the metropolis.

Mr. Sullivan says that the administration of Mayor Seth Low has been a failure. Poolrooms, he declares, have not been abelished and saloons are still open on Sunday. He has not satisfied Republican politicians, according to Mr. Suilivan. the St. Louis Butcher's Union last night at No. 200 South Broadway, demanding that the charges that diseased meat is sold in the charges that diseased meat is sold in St. Louis be probed in order that St. Louis butchers who sell good meat he freed from the general charge of dishonesty.

It was also decided that a committee should be appointed to confer with legislators as to the framing of the proposed new meat inspection ordinance. A. H. Kroeger. Christ Brokade and Fred Boghmann were named as committeemen.

A meeting will be held probably Thursday night of next week to discuss the question of the Beef Trust.
